SVRA is unveiling a new Web Page called the TECH ZONE

How many times have you been at the track and heard rumors about a car that was checked for infractions, but no one knew the outcome? Well, wonder no more! Spot checks for infractions and the weight of every car will no longer be a mystery; all infractions will show up in red letters. There are some findings from COTA that are posted at the site at the moment to give you an idea of what to expect. All the Information will be uploaded and posted from every event in 2016.

Now, let's go Racing!
